Argument Extract

Viva Kittery's very own life reporter Percival Daily....has come up with a good one.

WHERE do arguments really start he pondered .. Percival said I think we can say where least expected and end up where most is where they are least expected.. for instance a man in England received a small gift from a street urchin selling avocados, who when meeting the gentleman gave him an avocado .. for free saying.. I hope you enjoy this! The gentleman had no reason to buy the avocado bit was excited at the gift of it. He said.. thank you so very much for this gift young street urchin.

Well sir it is a complimentary gift for you to enjoy with... your family... Do you have a family sir? The gentleman said..well yes I do. I have 4 children and 32 relatives of some sort living with me.

The street urchin responded saying... this avocado will provide enough vitamins... for one of your family members ...and fiber.. for a whole day! the gentleman responded ..So street urchin you give a gift to help one of my family members for a day while the others go without?

The street urchin responded ..I sell these all day long to people who love their families and buy several a day for their loved ones.

The gentleman started indulging in a small rage.. So because I didn't buy a dozen, I don't love my family??

The urchin recited this.. I didn't say that.. but if you did love your family you might have thought of them all before taking this gift.

Now in full promulgation the gentleman said give me 26 more so my whole family might be have such relief. .. The street urchin could not give the gentleman that many as a gift so he said if I give you these what do you give me in return sir.. the bad health of your family ??? or do you propose to buy these healthy items as a gift to your own family yourself? ..should I receive the unhealthy debt of your family because of a simple gift?

The gentleman paused ..you know what..thanks for the avocado kid..I'm gonna ear it myself and not think about anyone else. The street urchin said.. I was hoping you would say that!! And continued smiling as he pressed his sales upon others passing by.

The gentleman aghast at the wayward attitude agreed to buy all his avocados.. And as he left..the gentleman remarked.. I'm going down the street with these and play your game and buy some real meat for the family before I go home!!
